—There is no danger in giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to Children, as it contains no injurious substance; besides it is unequalled for colds and croup. Children like it. For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

—Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its prompt and effectual cures of coughs and colds. The most severe cold may be loosened and relieved by a few doses of this valuable remedy. For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

—The following is from the pen of Mr. L. P. Bardwell, editor of the THE MARION (Iowa) PILOT, will, we believe be of interest to many of our readers. He says: "It is with pleasure that I certify to the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I have used it in my family for years and have always found it most excellent, and especially for colds, croup and sore throat. It is safe and effective." For sale by G. C. Thaxter.

What on Earth
Is the reason people will not, cannot, or do not see any difference in cheap nos trumps put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEGG'S BLOOD PURIFIER & BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work, will cost you nothing. W. H. Chedie, Druggist.

How Can Parents
allow their children to cough and strain and cough and calmly say: "Oh! it's only a little cold," and keep giving them cheap and dangerous medicines, until they are down with lung fever or consumption, when they can be so easily relieved by BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP? It has no superior and few equals. W. H. Chedie, Druggist.

Music Lessons.
Mrs. T. J. Meyers, formerly Miss Emma Friend, gives notice that she will re-commence piano lessons forthwith. Apply at residence, one door south of State Printing office. *

Cough! and Cough!! and Cough!!!

What in the world is the reason you will cough and keep coughing and still keep trying inferior medicines when BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP will positively relieve your cough at once? This is no advertising scheme, but an actual fact, and we guarantee it. W. H. Chedie, Druggist.

DEATH OF MRS. MILLS.—Mrs. Mary Mills, an old resident of Carson, and mother to Richard Mills, the tinsmith, Albert Mills, Foreman of the Virginia Chronicle office, and Mrs. J. R. Flagg, of San Francisco, died in the latter named city, where she was seeking medical aid, on Saturday last. The remains were brought to Carson Monday morning, being accompanied here by Mrs. Flagg and son and Albert Mills. The funeral will take place this afternoon from the residence of Richard Mills.

Mining Suit Decided.

Yesterday Judge Rising rendered a decision in the case of the Found Treasure vs. the North Commonwealth. He found for the Found Treasure on the ground that the Commonwealth had taken up more ground in its location than was allowed by law, and said location was null and void. Messrs. Yerington & Bliss were suing Price of Tuscarora.

DIED.—At the German Hospital, San Francisco, March 16, 1889, Mrs. Mary Mills, a native of Aldborough, County of Suffolk, England, in the 72d year of her age, late a resident of Carson.

The funeral will take place from the residence of Richard Mills, in this city, this (Tuesday) afternoon, at 1 o'clock. Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays the pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhea. Twenty five cents a bottle.

A VALUABLE INVENTION.

A New Adjusting Machine For Mints.

A few days ago George McLoughlin of this city received a patent from the U. S. Government on a new machine for adjusting coins in Mints.

Under the old way, coins are adjusted by filing the edges until the weight is correct, and the process is tedious, unsatisfactory and expensive. The machine invented by Mr. McLoughlin, adjusts coins as fast as steam can drive the machine and does the work of thirty operators. A planchette just from the die is liable to be too thick, by reason of the defective operations of the draw bench. The superfluous metal is all on the flat side of the piece of metal and not on the edge. Filing from the edge, if imperfectly done, detracts from the appearance of the coin, and the milling is not so clearly defined at the point where the file has been at work. The filings fall to the floor, or the garments of the adjusters, and once a year the floor has to be taken up and an expensive clean up made, to recover the lost particles of metal; and the waste and loss is considerable.

The new machine passes each planchette between a steel edge and a steel disc and each planchette after passing over the steel edge is shaved to a uniform thickness. As the shaving is taken off, it drops into a box below the machine, and not a grain is lost. The planchettes after being adjusted to a proper thickness and consequently to a proper weight, falls into another box. The planchettes are fed by means of an upright tube. Cervid revolving fingers in their passage under this stack of planchettes catch the lower one and passes it to the steel edge and the weight of the stack drops another planchette in place immediately to be taken in turn. The planchettes are fed into the tube as fast as one person can stack them in and they come out the other hole in the machine at the rate of about 180 a minute, properly adjusted.

Dr. Tuttle formerly of the Mint in this city was the first man to recognize the merits of the invention and intimated that in the four Mints of the United States it would effect a saving in the coining departments of $600 per day, and over $200,000 a year.

Mr. McLoughlin has also taken steps to protect the patent in all foreign countries having Government Mints. During the last few days the inventor has received over a dozen letters from eastern capitalists asking him the price of his invention.

ARBOR DAY PROCLAMATION.

State of Nevada—Executive Department, Carson City, March 13, 1889.

Whereas, By an Act of the Legislature of this State, approved February 10, 1887, "Arbor Day" is established and made "a holiday for the public schools;" and

Whereas, By the terms of said Act the Chief Executive is requested to make proclamation of said day thirty days prior to its observance,

Therefore, I, C. C. Stevenson, Governor of the State of Nevada, do hereby proclaim and set apart Friday, the 12th day of April, A. D. 1889, as Arbor Day, and earnestly request its observance throughout the State, especially by all the teachers and pupils of the public schools, and that said Act be read by teachers to pupils, and its wise and salutary provisions explained.

If heartily and properly observed, the same may be rendered exceedingly beneficial in many ways. The planting and raising of shrubs, vines and trees may be made pecuniarily profitable, and in addition thereto great benefit may arise from so doing by reason of the climatic and sanitary effects to ensue.

Let the day be well and faithfully observed.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Nevada to be affixed. Done at Carson City, Nevada, this 13th day of March, A. D. 1889.

C. C. STEVENSON.

By the Governor:
J. M. DORMER, Secretary of State.

—M. Cohn has just received from the East the finest lot of window shades in the State.

IN THE FIRST DEGREE.

Something of Nevada's Lady Macbeth.

The jury in the Potts murder case at Elko found a verdict of murder in the first degree.

Josiah Potts and wife Elizabeth, on the 1st., of January last murdered Miles Faucette at Carlin, for his money, and after chopping the body to pieces concealed it in a cellar and reported that he had gone East. The discovery of the body after the Potts couple had left the country, resulted in their arrest and subsequent conviction. This is the first time a woman was ever convicted of murder in the first degree in this State.

The independent thus describes Mrs. Potts:

Elizabeth Potts is a native of Manchester, England, about forty-two years of age, although she looks much younger. She is a large portly woman, of rather prepossessing appearance, fresh, healthy complexion, light blue eyes, weighs about 200 pounds and by some would be considered handsome. From the time she was arrested at Rock Springs, Wyoming, to the conclusion of the trial by which she was found guilty of murder, she has maintained a stolid indifference which is truly remarkable in a woman.

Even when the verdict of murder in the first degree was pronounced against her, it was remarked that there was not the slightest exhibition of feeling, not even the twitching of a muscle of her peaceful countenance, and she left the court room, escorted by the Sheriff, with some pleasant and smiling remark to the Clerk who preceded her.

THE $100,000 APPROPRIATION.

Views of the Reno Journal On the Subject.

The Reno Journal takes the following sensible view of the water storage bill:

The Journal is well pleased to note the discussion concerning the bill passed by the Legislature appropriating $100,000 for storage and irrigation purposes. It is a move in the right direction, and if the money is expended wisely the benefit to the State will be of incalculable advantage. Unfortunately for Nevada the men who have made fortunes in this State have taken it away to make the flowers bud and bloom in other sections. It is only within a year that the General Government has seemed disposed to apply a portion of its surplus funds to any measure bearing upon our direct prosperity. Nevada has contributed three times as much to the General Government as it has received from it. It has probably, during the twenty-five years of its Statehood, received for mails, surveys, Mint salaries, and all sources, five millions of dollars, and it has paid to the United States in Internal Revenue and other direct and indirect taxes, fully $15,000,000, not counting the half a billion of money that came from the mines, and which has materially aided the Nation to maintain its credit at home and abroad. Nevada is under no obligation to the country at large, and from infancy to manhood the people of this State have struggled along making the best of the situation, endeavoring to maintain themselves and to build up for those who might come hereafter. More than ever they now recognize the fact that in order to create or preserve business, States, like individuals, must spend money, and Nevada is determined to work out her own salvation.

Well Boring Tools.

The well boring machine for Douglas County has arrived. It can now be seen at the freight depot. It is quite an extensive apparatus and warranted to sink wells one thousand feet. This machinery replaces the first machinery shipped in this direction, but failed to reach its destination by reason of a railroad accident. The people of Genoa are red hot on the artesian well question, and nearly every body up that way owns stock in the "borer."
